

Carlotta Vignali is PhD Candidate in Sociology at the Department of Political Sciences at the University of Pisa.

From October 2018 to December 2018 she was Visiting Student at the University of Winchester (UK).

Her current research interests include Sociology of the prison system, the multiethnic and multi-faith prison context, and the management of "radicalization" and violent extremisms in prison.

She is an Observer for the Associazione Antigone and her task is to monitor prison conditions in Tuscany.